

School Readiness

Bright Minds' school readiness program is designed to help preschool-age children prepare to enter into a structured school environment with confidence. Bright Minds' preparation for formal education is focused on enhancing each student's listening, following directions, interactive, and cooperative skills. Our goal is to help children realize that self-discovery is the key to a happy and successful learning experience, both inside and outside the formal school system.

Specifically, preschool-age children are gradually introduced to interactional systems of learning in a joyful and creative atmosphere. Young students in the school readiness program learn the importance of establishing routines, following directions, and asking appropriate questions. Inspired and motivated, young students learn to advocate for themselves by interacting with their teachers. While listening carefully to teachers, they develop learning protocols in the interest of facilitating a smooth transition into formal education.

Bright Minds curriculum booklets, which are carefully and systematically designed, play a big role for children to learn and master the concepts with ease and retain for better application.
